

QUARTERLY SUPPLIER REPORT

Prepared for the operations team
Reporting period: April to June 2026

This document is sample data. Every name, address and account number in it is invented, and it exists only so that a file workbench has something realistic to work on.

It deliberately contains blank pages, a table printed sideways, and a block of personal data, so that removing, rotating and redacting can each be tried on something that looks real.

SUMMARY

Deliveries arrived on time in 94 per cent of cases this quarter, up from 89 per cent in the previous one. The improvement came almost entirely from the northern route, where the change of carrier in May removed a recurring two-day delay.

Costs rose by 3 per cent, which is below the increase in fuel prices over the same period. Two suppliers renegotiated their terms; the rest were rolled over unchanged.

No incidents were recorded. One near miss at the loading bay was reported and has since been addressed with new signage.

This page contains nothing personal and nothing sideways. It is here so that you can check an edit did not damage the rest of the document.

SUPPLIER NOTES

Northgate Supplies moved to a new depot in May. Their lead time dropped by a day as a result, and their invoices now arrive weekly rather than monthly.

Harbour Freight remains the slowest of the five, though not by enough to justify the cost of switching. Their contract is up for renewal in March and should be revisited then.

Two smaller suppliers were added this quarter and are still inside their trial period. Neither has missed a delivery.

RISKS AND ACTIONS

Fuel prices are the main exposure. A ten per cent rise would add roughly four per cent to the quarterly total, which is within tolerance but worth watching.

The single-carrier dependency on the coastal route has been flagged twice now. A second carrier has been approached and a decision is expected before the next report.

Actions carried forward: renegotiate Harbour Freight terms, complete the coastal route second-carrier assessment, and review the loading bay signage change after three months.

MONTHLY VOLUME (also landscape)

APPENDIX

Figures are drawn from the delivery log and rounded to the nearest whole delivery. Percentages are calculated before rounding, so columns may not sum exactly.
